

Introducing AAISA's Online Research Library

The AAISA Research Library is a website of research resources specifically for the settlement sector in Alberta. It brings together current articles on essential issues, significant research sites and forums for settlement agency staff and researchers in the sector to network.

Connect to the library through AAISA's main site under "Research & Publications" or go to www.aaisa.ca/research/home.

FEATURING:

1) Article Catalogue

A listing of over 115 articles, arranged by topic, which links directly to the original document and includes title, author and/or institution, brief description and date of publication. A search function is also available for this section.

2) AAISA Research Briefs

2-page summaries of recent research and background on select topics, such as TFWs

3) Recommended Research Sites

Links to major sources of research for the settlement sector

4) External Researchers

Location for researchers from various institutions to share their research interests and contact information in order to build connections with the settlement sector

5) Classifieds

This section provides the opportunity for settlement staff, external researchers and other interested parties to communicate their research needs with each other and potentially build a network for settlement research in the province. Requests can be posted seeking researchers or agencies to partner on projects, for help finding resources on a particular topic, or any other research-related communications.

6) Register/Login

Interested settlement staff may register an account with their email in order to receive updates on new articles or components of the AAISA research library. Registration is necessary for posting a classified ad.

Questions? Concerns? Recommendations?
